“ My Precious, Prettily Amy Leigh. Words cannot begin to explain my thoughts right now. A parent should never have to lose a child. It's just so unfair.

But God needed you Home. I'll make sure the boys have whatever they need, and we will carry on your legacy of being a friend and mama to all. I will love you FOREVER and Beyond. Mammerly.

“ ☆The night all the hippy sisters went out to Stephanie's L'.s house and played a nice boardgame for the evening. You girls know who I'm talking about if u were there. One of the most fun and hilarious nights of my life. I will never forget it. I did lose all the pictures unfortunately. I love the way we would fellowship around any old campfire with some instruments and drums and our voices and just live freely, making music, loving one another and especially learning a lot from each other and being able to teach each other so many different things . What a blessing to be a vessel. Amy has always been a vessel of love in my life. A love that is beautiful, big,, bold, honest, caring, humbling and extremely rare in this world. Until, we meet again, crazy lady, I will be missing you . Love you forever and always.
