“ I will never forget the day I showed up fancy and Beth was trying to change a tire on her SUV I had to change clothes just to help I was laying on the ground trying to get the jack in place she said plz be careful bc if something happens to you Dawn will never forgive me. We laughed so hard that day and we never accomplished changing the tire. I love her and I am an adopted sister of sorts and she always made sure to hug me and tell me how much she appreciated me.
