I hate to lose good friends, but Jackie and Ann should always be together. They are singing together again. God Bless you both. We will miss but we will see you again.

“ My favorite memories of Jackie are the many times that we all visited and talked and shared life’s memories and there was never a time that he didn’t have something funny to make me laugh. I absolutely loved hearing him and Ann sing together. My sister Susie and I have always sang together and one day he said hey we need to get together and visit and sing some songs together. Well that just made my day and I felt so honored. So we got together several times over the years and shared memories and sang a bunch of songs and shared a lot of fun and laughter. Go rest high on that mountain Jackie and tell Mom and Dad and everyone else that I love them and will see them in Heaven.
