“ Kyle was my neighbor and he was always very thoughtful and kind help or just to come over and talk politics or argue about Alabama and Auburn football. One instance I remember was when my daughter was leaving to go to work, she saw he was working under his car and she thought he was stuck or something. She went over to check and he was just trying to pull something out from under the car. That really meant a lot to him so he went the next day and bought her some flowers as a thank you. That meant a lot to us. Going to miss my friend.
