“ I have many fond memories of Larry. His laugh was contagious. I can still hear it ring in my ears. I also loved hearing Larry sing and play the guitar. I loved hearing him sing "His hand reached fit her own than I could reach up". Larry, always inspired me how he would come to visit his grandpa Collins, my dad. He would go rabbit hunting with daddy, and just stop by often to visit, even after daddy went to the nursing home, he would tell me about Larry coming to see him. I was much younger ,but i can remember my dad telling me about Larry shooting his toe off. Last but not least I remember Larry picking my dad and I up to go to hear him and his dad Donald sing. Larry was a lot of fun to be around. He will be greatly missed.
RIP
