“ Roger was one of a kind. He loves his family, friends, but the Most Important of All, was Jesus Christ.

In September of 1977, Charles and I asked Roger to perform our wedding ceremony. While finishing up the service, his Bible, which had numerous notes and things within, slid open on one side and all the stuff fell to the floor. His face was beet red, but he continued on and we have laughed about it since then. I often told him that he did a good job of putting Charles and me together. He never failed to ask if we were in church when we saw him after not being around him for a while.

Roger's work is done here but his legacy of love will continue through his family and friends, I'm sure several have notes in their Bibles marked where he told of God's Love and Forgiveness. He would want all to know that where he is now is where he will love to see you again someday. God bless you. My prayers will be with you.

“ Mr. White was my first boss at Gold Kist, I had just turned twenty, and had two children and a less than godly husband who had gotten drunk one night while I was at work. He had a suppose to be friend who almost killed him. Every bone in his face was broken. When he came home from the hospital he couldn't eat, the food I had to buy for him cost so much I was struggling to pay our bills. We ran out of gas and it was so cold I didn't know what to do. I was a young Christian and wasn't sure if God would hear my prayers. Well he did! when I got to work Mr White called me to the office and told me that the Lord had impressed him to give me his weekly offering. He gave me fifty dollars. I was able to buy some gas, It was a great needed blessing and encouragement both as faith in God, and in knowing someone who lived in Gods will.
Brother White later preached my Dads Funeral. I believe he has many treasures laid up in heaven. I am sure I am not the only one he was a blessing to.
My heart and prayers are with you all. God Bless
