“ Mom. I want you to know that you will always live inside of my heart. I truly am heartbroken and never thought this day would come so soon. I promise to be the best grandmother to your great baby that i can be. I hope to make you proud. I miss you dearly and I feel a little comfort knowing your with granddaddy dancing in heaven. Your not in pain anymore and all your suffering is over. This is not good bye, this is and I love you and Ill see you later. My heart aches so bad but I know you are now happy in heaven.

*I love you,
your daughter

“ To My Mama,

I am completely heartbroken and torn. Im so sorry I never got to say the things i wanted to tell you. I have loved you since the day i was born and you were my shining star. I will always cherish our long conversations and late night laughs on the phone. I never expected this to happen like this. May you rest in peace and I want you to know Im doing everything I can to give you a beautiful service. Life will never be the same but i know u are happy being with granddaddy and dancing with him in heaven. That gives me comfort and to know that you are no longer in misery and suffering. I will see your face again one day. I will live my life to the fullest and be the best grandmother to my granddaughter that i can be and ;make u proud. so Im gonna write you a story of my life that I will share with you in heaven one day. This isnt good bye its just and i love u and i c u later.
